Accepting Applications for 2018 Local and Regional Food Aid Procurement Program

Topics: Food Assistance, Food Security

Programs: Local and Regional Food Aid Procurement (LRP) Program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is now accepting applications for the fiscal year (FY) 2018 LRP program. Through the LRP program, USDA’s Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) will work with partners to implement field-based projects in developing countries through the use of locally procured commodities. These efforts will complement existing U.S. government food assistance programs, especially the McGovern-Dole International Food for Education and Child Nutrition Program, which supports school feeding and maternal and child nutrition projects around the world. While LRP projects are typically funded for up to two years, all projects in this announcement will be funded subject to availability funds. In FY 2018, applications will be prioritized for Guatemala, Honduras, Malawi, and Senegal.

The application deadline is COB June 22, 2018.
