EU Budget for Fruit and Vegetables

The European Agricultural Guidance and Guarantee Fund (EAGGF) for financial year 2001 was recently published in Official Journal L56. The guarantee section finances expenditures on agricultural market organizations and rural development measures that accompany market support. The guidance section finances other rural development measures that are not covered by the guarantee section. The budget for fresh fruit and vegetables increased by 15% compared to 2000 and decreased by 17.5% for processed fruit and vegetables. Expenditures on the fruit and vegetable sector account for 4% of the EAGGF guarantee section. Commission Regulation 544/2001 of March 21, 2001, stipulates that financial aid for operational funds is to be regarded as intervention intended to stabilize the agricultural market. The regulation applies to payments made after January 1, 2000, which means that the aid now comes under the guarantee regulation as opposed to the guidance regulation.
