Report Highlights:

This report provides an unofficial translation of Vietnam’s Prime Minister Decision 300/QD-TTg dated March 28, 2023, to approve the National Action Plan on Food Systems Transformation toward Transparency, Responsibility and Sustainability in Vietnam by 2030. The Action Plan is an important policy document for Vietnam’s economic growth and sustainable development, with specific goals related to food and nutrition security.

Summary

Vietnam's Prime Minister issued the Decision 300/QD-TTg on March 28, 2023, approving the National Action Plan on Food Systems Transformation toward Transparency, Responsibility and Sustainability in Vietnam by 2030. Its overall objective is to transform the food systems including production, processing, distribution, and consumption towards transparency, responsibility and sustainability based on local advantages; to ensure national food and nutrition security; to improve people's income and living standards; to prevent and control natural disasters and epidemics; to protect the environment and respond to climate change; and finally to contribute to the rolling-out of the Vietnam and Global Sustainable Development Goals by 2030.

Vietnam's Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (MARD) is the lead ministry for implementation of this National Action Plan, in collaboration and cooperation with line ministries and related agencies. MARD is assigned to propose a Food Systems Transformation Partnership co-chaired by its Minister and an International Partner.

The National Action Plan is organized into the following parts and one appendix.

Part 1 – Point of View

Part 2 – Goals and Targets

Part 3 – Missions and Solutions

Part 4 – Resources for Implementation

Appendix: List of Programs and Assignments for Implementation of National Action Plan on Food Systems Transformation toward Transparency, Responsibility, and Sustainability in Vietnam by 2030.
