China Solicits Second Round of Tariff Exclusion Applications

Report Categories:

Trade Policy Monitoring

Approved By:

Michael Ward

Prepared By:

Abraham Inouye

Report Highlights:

On August 28, China's State Council Customs Tariff Commission (SCCTC) announced that China will administer a second round of tariff exclusions for certain imports originating from the United States and subject to additional Chinese tariffs (an unofficial translation of this announcement is included in this report as Appendix 1). Both enterprises and industry associations that import, produce, or use relevant products are eligible to apply through the tariff exclusion process. In the official guidance from SCCTC, the second round process does not appear to be substantially different from the process in the first round announcement that closed on July 5, 2019. China's Ministry of Finance (MOF) opened the online application portal on September 2, 2019 and will accept applications through October 18, 2019. The agricultural and related products that are eligible for second round exclusions are included in this report as Appendix 2.

General Information:

On August 28, 2019, SCCTC announced that the second round of tariff exclusions would be opening on September 2. Simultaneously, MOF published the procedures for requesting tariff exclusions along with the complete list of eligible products in the second round. This report contains a general description of the process, an unofficial translation of the SCCTC announcement, and a list of the eligible agricultural and related products. For more information about the application process, please see FAS GAIN Report CH19032 discussing the first round of tariff exclusions and MOF's First Round FAQ Document (Chinese).

NOTE: MOF's announcement covers a very broad scope of U.S. products, but this report is limited to only the agricultural and related products in the announcement. For a complete list of products covered, refer to the MOF, Trade Policy Research Center's website (<https://gszx.mof.gov.cn>).

MOF is administering the online platform, along with expertise contributed by the China Council for the Promotion of International Trade (CCPIT), and the SCCTC will oversee the decision-making process.

Eligible Applicants

Both enterprises and industry associations that import, produce, or use the listed products are eligible to apply. Official guidance encourages industry associations to represent their members and to apply for exclusions on their behalf.

Where to Apply

Enterprises and industry associations within mainland China may register, upload, and file application through MOF's Tariff Policy Research Center's website (<https://gszx.mof.gov.cn>).

Scope of Eligibility

The published list of products eligible for tariff exclusion includes over 400 product lines of U.S. agricultural and related products from China's National Harmonized Schedule (HS) (see Appendix 2). This list of products is associated with MOF's August 3, 2018 announcement in response to the U.S. Section 301 Investigation. See FAS GAIN report CH18043.

Note: Appendix 2 only covers the agricultural and related products in the announcement. For the complete published list, please see the MOF, Tariff Policy Research Center's website.

Timing

MOF will accept applications for the second round of exclusions from September 2, 2019 through October 18, 2019.

Applicant Information

Enterprise applicants must submit copies of their official business license, their Uniform Social Credit Code, and an active Chinese mobile number, among other personally identifiable information.

Industry associations applying on behalf of certain member enterprises must submit the above mentioned information for each such enterprise as well as the association itself, including a legal entity registration certificate.

Note: If an industry association has already compiled and submitted information from certain member enterprises, such enterprises may not resubmit application individually.

Product Data for the Application

Applicants must submit the following information in the online application.

A. Basic Product Information

1. Identifiable products that applied for exclusion
2. Tariff code – as defined by the HS 8-digit or 10-digit code, or product description.
3. Use of the products

B. Detailed Import Data for each HS Code for each product from the United States and from third countries for the last three years (2017 to 2019), as well as the Customs declaration forms for the top five largest imports for 2018 and 2019.

C. Impact of the tariffs on Enterprises

1. Tariffs already paid for the imposed additional tariffs by June 30, 2019
2. Impact of the additional tariffs on the enterprise's production and operation (optional items include average wage, earnings before tax, and cost of production)
3. The enterprise's status in the industry (optional item; if the enterprise wants to fill-in this item, evidence should be provided)

D. Factors of Consideration for Exclusion of Products

1. Substitutability of the products applying for exclusion
2. Rationale for application for exclusion based on facts and data.
3. Competitive influence on the overall industry

Note: To apply for a product under multiple tariff codes, applicants must fill out and submit a form for each tariff code associated with the product.

Preliminary Application Review and Submission Process

A preliminary review of the application will be made. Once submitted, the system will perform a completeness determination within 5 days. If not complete, applicants will receive feedback about the rejections and they can revise or resubmit the application. If the application is determined to be complete, the application will proceed to the expert panel for review.

Expert Review Panel

An expert review panel, appointed by the SCCTC, will consider the merits of each application. The committee will be composed of industry and technical experts and government officials. The panel will seek to identify the specific harm that the tariffs have on the overall economic structure or societal context of the Chinese industry, agricultural producers, or consumers. After the expert panel review is complete, eligible products for exclusion will be published on the MOF website. The applicant is also able to log in to the online exclusion system to search the exclusion list.

Legal Statements

Applicants are accountable for the accuracy of the information submitted. Information that is false will disqualify applicants from consideration. Information gathered as part of the exclusionary process is intended only to administer this process.

While MOF states that this information will not be shared with third parties without consent of the applicant, it can be used for other reasons such as complying with other government requirements, legal or policy needs.

Note: Currently, there are no additional procedures for the submission of business confidential information.

Counseling Phone Hotline

MOF has announced a dedicated hotline for the exclusion process. Applicants can call if they encounter problems in filing and uploading the application information. The line is open Monday through Friday, 9:00 to 11:30 am China Standard Time and 2:00 to 5:00 pm China Standard Time. The hotline will likely be operated by Mandarin speakers.

BEGIN UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION

The Platform for Application for Tariff Exclusion for U.S. Products (Batch II) Opened on August 28, 2019

The application platform for exclusion of tariff imposed on U.S. commodities (Batch II) opened on August 28, 2019. Pursuant to the Trial Implementation of the Exclusion Process for Eligible U.S. Products Subject to Ad Valorem Tariffs (Tariff Commission Notice [2019] No. 2), enterprises and industry associations in China can register, and log in the MOF's Tariff Policy Research Center's website (<https://gszx.mof.gov.cn>), and fill in the applications for exclusion. The exclusion application platform will formally accept applications for the batch II exclusion from September 2, 2019.

In addition, to facilitate proper filling of the applications, the website also published the Tariff Exclusion Application Instructions (Batch II).
